From Plan Book to Finished Home

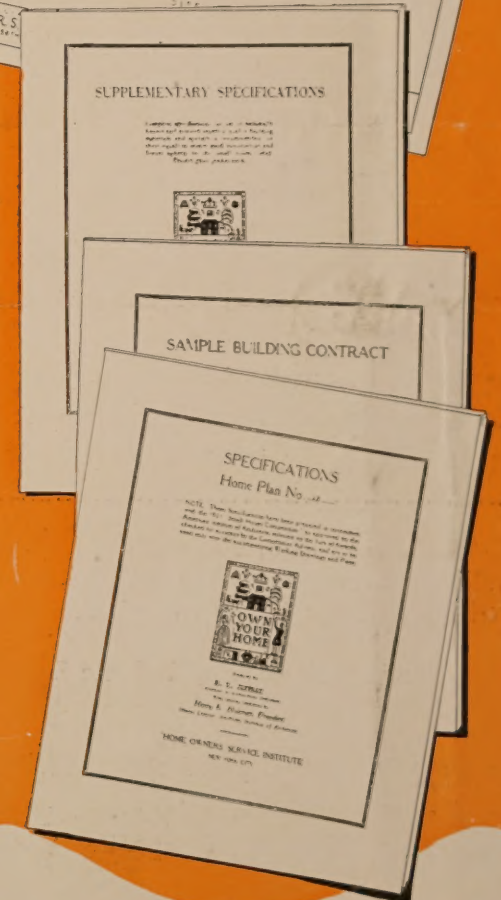

FIRST—

Vol. I, of our "Books of a Thousand Homes," edited by Henry Atterbury Smith, contains 500 plans, including prize winning and selected designs, many of them contributed by some of the foremost architects in America.

SECOND—

Having selected a plan from Vol. I of our plan book, complete blue prints and specifications are furnished with a set of 14 instructional units, enabling the purchaser to secure accurate estimates from a contractor as to cost of construction; eliminating guess work, blunders and unnecessary expense.

THIRD—

Finished house built from one of our plans, showing its accurate following of original design; erected at Larchmont Gardens, Westchester County, under supervision of the Home Owners' Service Institute, with cooperation of New York Tribune.

MORE than 100 Architects designed these moderate cost homes for you—

Volume I, containing 500 small house designs, of our "Books of a Thousand Homes," edited by Henry Atterbury Smith, will be ready May 1st. This will be a de luxe library edition bound in cloth and board, size 9 inches by 12 inches; price $3.00.

Volume II will be ready in the fall, 1923, containing 500 additional designs. These will be companion volumes in every respect.

Nearly two years have been occupied in obtaining rights, from architects and associations, and in bringing together and editing, this collection of small house plans, the best and most complete that has been assembled and published in this or any other country. Volume I will include not only prize winning and popular designs, carefully tested under expert construction, but also will present the designs of many of America's foremost architects.

Here is an opportunity to get for $3.00 the services of leading architects of the United States. Here is an investment of $3.00 that will save ~~$5.00~~ ^{$500.00} and more.

Each design is illustrated with perspective drawing or photograph, floor plans and dimensions, with description and cubical contents, making preliminary construction cost-estimating easy in your immediate vicinity.

For each design the architect's blue print working drawings, details and specifications, complete for building, are available.
